FOCUS: MIB calls out to Serbian talents

MIB School of Management and its network are developing a strong cooperation with some selected countries. Today SERBIA is considered a "strategic country", for its geographical position, the high business potential and the high potential human capital.

The cooperation between MIB and Serbian businesses and bodies is going through a period of rapid growth.

Indeed every year a significant number of highly talented participants coming from Serbia attend MIB programs (8 Serbian students in 2010).
