Hando Trading Co., President

Mr. Choo-ha Kim

■ Company Profile

General Status	Establishment	1988
	Type of Business	Import/Export
Brief Introduction	Established in 1988 with the tradition and technology inherited from Seoul Gwang-You which boasted of its expertise and long history of 40 years in steel and grease industry in Korea, Hando is a special purpose grease manufacturer for specific uses especially in automobile and electronics sectors, including plastic and metal gearing systems, actuators, and industrial robots.
	With the rapid development and growth in electronics-parts and auto industry, there has been much more needs for high-quality lubricants than ever before. On top of that, it is not surprising that customers nowadays, especially from developed countries, have been asking for more eco-friendly products, as the concerns about the environment steadily increases all around the world. What's more, as export markets are becoming greatly diversified these days, from extremely cold regions like many northern European nations to the hottest parts of the globe such as most African or south American countries, there is a growing need for a lubricant that can perform well in those unfavorable conditions and even in more severe changes of temperature raging widely from -50 to 200 degrees Celsius.
	As part of an effort to meet our customers' expectations, we've been trying to improve the performance of our products, working together with highly competent and reliable researchers in universities for the past 25 years. As a result of many years' effort, we've achieved recognition in this field and have been supplying grease to Hyundai Motor Company, GM Korea, Renault Samsung motors, and other auto parts companies as well as electronics industries.
